

CLOAK & DAGGER

The Dagger Pinot Grigio Reviews

91 Points

Halliday Wine Companion, 26 July 2022, Jeni Port
(2019 Vintage)

"Retains its intrinsic grigio-ness while also packing plenty of flavour and savoury impact. Aromatic spice livens up the bouquet with preserved lemon, Nashi pear and spiced apple. Dusty lemon curd and mandarin skin bring added depth to this charming grigio before finishing lemony crisp and fresh."

Huon Hooke - The Real Review 5 February 2022
(2021 Vintage)

"Very light straw-yellow hue. Dry grass, dried herb aromas, straight forward and light, with a fruity but dry taste and plain but pleasant flavour."

Halliday Wine Companion, 13 August 2021, Jane Faulkner
(2019 Vintage)

"Citrus blossom, lemon salts sprinkled with thyme plus ripe pears. Pleasing and easy across the palate with soft acidity and a gentle sway."

Halliday Wine Companion, 1 August 2019, Jane Faulkner
(2018 Vintage)

"A faint blush with just the right amount of spicy pear and peppery radish to keep one's interest."

90 Points

Halliday Wine Companion, 1 August 2018, James Halliday
(2017 Vintage)

"Pale pink; there's far more happening here than in most gris, its grapes sourced from matured vines in the King and Alpine Valleys."

Richard Crowley - Wine Time, 5 April 2018
(2016 Vintage)

"The pinot grigio uses cool-climate fruit from the King Valley, its crunchiness and flavour profile standing up to plenty of great white meat dishes and autumnal salads. The hints of pear and honeysuckle on the nose finish with a crispness that is true to the heritage of this wine style." 16/20